

Letter from Marianne Homburger to Georg Bredig, October 14, 1940

Homburger, Marianne. "Letter from Marianne Homburger to Georg Bredig, October 14, 1940," October 14, 1940. Papers of Georg and Max Bredig, Box 8, Folder 19. Science History Institute. Philadelphia.

<https://digital.sciencehistory.org/works/8d8vwwn>.

Courtesy of the Science History Institute, prepared July 20, 2025 11:13 UTC

Translated by Jocelyn R. McDaniel

English Translation

Nr. 73

14 October 1940

[Max Bredig's hand: received October 24 / answered " 25]

Dear Papa,

I didn't read the letter to Henry Dora, but I haven't received anything from you in a long time. Hopefully soon. I can no longer write to you on Saturday because of all the work, but a two day delay probably doesn't make much difference when it comes to distance. Viktor will return tomorrow evening. He wrote and was content. E---y is still with us, but is renting a room here now. There isn't really anything new to report. Everything is the same as usual. There is never any news about the children except from you or the Neumetzgers. Aunt Idel and Aunt Valley are doing well and we are too. It's already cold and autumn-like here. I think of you a lot and with great love, my beloved Papa, and long for the day when I can hug you. Best wishes to you and Max.

Marianne